

Dear FCC, We are writing to ask you to please reject the NAB's petition number 04-160. As customers of satellite radio, specifically XM, I feel that I pay for the content on my radio, much to my satisfaction. My husband and I travel frequently, and it is wonderful to be able to access the same stations consistantly, as well as being able to tune to the weather and traffic stations for the areas we are going well ahead of time for timely information. I feel that if maybe the regular radio stations would A.) stop talking constantly, and play music, and B.) offer me the same type of services, we would switch back. I live in a very rural area at this time, and the only 2 stations available are country and religious. If this is all I could listen too, I think I might stop listening to radio AT ALL. Tell them to fix their problems, and stop picking on something that is a subscriber PAID service.

Thank you,

John & Virginia Konerman
